CRISIS IS RUMORED
Negotiations Regarding China Said to Have Reached Another Sticking Place.
A MOVE BY YUNG LU ON AT STILLWATER
Chinese General Said to Have Taken His Army to Tai-yuan-fu.
Washington, Sept. 8.—There were no substantial developments over night in the Chinese situation. Mr. Takahira, the Japanese minister, called at the state department this morning to talk over the conditions with Acting Secretary Hill. The minister said that he had nothing new from home touching the Chinese trouble.

There is reason to believe that the negotiations have not reached another crisis, and developments of importance are expected, the nature of which it is not possible at present to even outline.

It is stated that Li Hung Chang is still at Shanghai, and unofficial advice that reach here indicate that he is not likely to leave for Peking, notwithstanding reports to the contrary.

Berlin, Sept. 8.—A dispatch from Shanghai, dated Friday, Sept. 7, says: "It is reported here that Gen. Yuan Lu, with his troops, returned from Pao-tung to Tai-yuan-fu, Sept. 2."

"Ching Shih, the Manchurian president of the ministry of finance, is reported to have committed suicide."

"Chang Tsi Tung's efforts to secure a loan of $50,000,000 from Chinese merchants at Hankow is believed to have failed."

"The Chinese papers publish an edict, dated Aug. 19, ordering the presidents and secretaries of the ministerial departments to proceed to Tai-yuan-fu without delay, in order that the emperor in dispatching the affairs of state."

A Mammoth Transfer of St. Louis County Timber Being Negotiated.
INvolves Eight Hundred Million Feet, All to Be Sawed There.
St. Paul, Sept. 8.—A Stillwater, Minn., special to the Dispatch says: The biggest deal in standing pine for a generation is being negotiated in this city.

It involves about 800,000,000 feet of growing pine in St. Louis county in the Rainy River region, and is valued at $3,000,000 where it stands.

The plan is to bring the timber to this city to be sawed, in which event the mills here will be kept running many years. By building thirty miles of railroad, the logs can be hauled to roads now in operation.

President McKinley's Letter of Acceptance Avoids the Question of Imperialism.
New York, Sept. 8.—A special to the Herald from Washington says: President McKinley's letter of acceptance, which is to be published Monday, is said by members of the administration to be the strongest presentation of the Republican side of the issues of the present campaign that has as yet appeared.

The president seems to avoid the question of imperialism.

Much of his letter is devoted to the issue raised by the American islands. He shows what has been done in the way of political conditions in three years, attention is called to the steps towards what has been undertaken in the way of a free and independent government in Cuba, and the institution of civil government in the Philippines under Philippine commission is referred to.

Krugersdorp is a small town about twenty miles north by east of Lydenburg.

ROOSEVELT FINISHES MICHIGAN
Up and Starts In Among the Hoosiers.
THEY WHOOP IT UP A GALAXY OF STARS
Give Him a Reception at South Bend.
South Bend, Ind., Sept. 8.—Elaborate preparations had been made to greet Governor Roosevelt when he arrived here today. The entire city was ablaze with the national colors, while pictures of McKinley and Roosevelt were to be seen everywhere. Excursion trains from many points in northern Indiana brought thousands of visitors during the day.

A reception committee, headed by Congressman A. L. Brick, left for Niles, Mich., on a special train to meet Governor Roosevelt and escort him into Indiana.

The Rough Rider and marching clubs paraded through the city to the railway station where they met Governor Roosevelt and escorted him to the speaking stand.

Governor Roosevelt spoke in part as follows:

It is certainly a curious thing that in this campaign we should find that the very success of our policies is used as an argument against us. In 1896, Mr. Bryan prophesied terrible disaster if the gold standard was continued, and, in respect of what appeal is made to the farmer and to the wage worker. Now, prosperity has come to all classes in an unbroken degree, and this is used as an argument why it is safe to try the experiment of putting into power the men whose creed is the creed of envy and hatred to industry.

Business men are appealed to vote for Mr. Bryan on the ground that the country is so prosperous that he could not harm us much. The wage-workers are appealed to vote for Mr. Bryan on the ground that, though he has prospered, the capitalist class has prospered more, and the policy which does good to the capitalist should be followed, even though it makes the wage-workers suffer. In other words, that he ought not to balance his own welfare against the chance to injury to somebody else. This is not an exaggeration, gentlemen. It is a simple statement of what appeal is made by our opponents in the latest analysis. They appeal to the passions of envy and hatred; to the forces that tell for civic disorder and social disharmony. They are hostile to an upright and fearless judiciary, as they are hostile to a sound currency.

Again the appeal is made to the short-sighted and careless to vote for Mr. Bryan and his party. They say that, if elected, a Republican senate will prevent the passage of the Bryan bill, and that it is safe to elect Mr. Bryan, because in such case, prior to the fourth of July, the Democrats and sound money men have passed such legislation as would enable their Bryanite successors, if elected, to pass the Bryan bill.

It seems well high incredible that any man could forget the principles through which they have passed during the preceding three years and that they should know the cause of their troubles. The next error presented was their belief that the people were not in favor of a sound financial policy.

Those leaders are now ashamed of their performances in 1896 and seek to have them forgotten. This season, they have put a new play upon the board and it ought to be the good old tale of "The People's Choice." The first error was to suppose that the American people could forget the principles through which they have passed during the preceding three years and that they should know the cause of their troubles. The next error presented was their belief that the people were not in favor of a sound financial policy.

BLOW-OUT IN OHIO
Republicans Open Their Campaign With a Big Time at Youngstown.
Is Assembled to Start the Ball Rolling in Proper Shape.
Youngstown, Ohio, Sept. 8.—The Republicans of Ohio formally opened the presidential campaign here today with a large parade, followed by a meeting, which for enthusiasm, eloquence and attendance has rarely been equaled in the Buckeye state. Everything tended to a successful demonstration. Weather conditions were perfect, while the trio of oratorical stars, Senators Chauncey M. Depew, J. B. Foraker and Marcus A. Hanna, was the magnet that drew thousands of visitors from all parts of Ohio and Western Pennsylvania.

Before dawn the trains began emptying their loads of humanity into the city, and hours before the parade, which preceded the meeting, the streets were packed with spectators. Senators Depew, Foraker and Hanna arrived from Cleveland at 8:35 a. m. Accompanying them, as guests of Senator Depew, were Judge Williamson of Cleveland, State Treasurer Cassin, District Attorney John J. Sullivan, Myron T. Herrick, Andrew Squires, also of Cleveland, and George P. Waldorf, collector of customs, of Toledo.

The distinguished party was met by the reception committee and escorted by the Foraker Republican club, was driven to the residence of Mr. Wick, where luncheon was served, followed by an informal reception.

Shortly after noon they entered carriages and were driven to the public square, where they took their places in line. Promptly at 1 o'clock the march was taken up. The procession was in eight divisions and was nearly four miles in length. In addition to the first division from Cleveland, Canton, Toledo, Columbus and many other towns and cities in Ohio, the procession included numerous and attractive industrial exhibits.

When Wick park, where the speaking was to take place, was reached by the head of the procession, fully 20,000 people were in waiting. On account of the immense crowd two meetings were held at the same time. Governor George K. Nash, who had been selected as president of the meeting, was introduced by introducing Senator Foraker. Governor Nash said:

It has occurred to me that nature designed the leaders of the Democratic party for actors. From my observation I am led to believe that even in this procession they are to play upon the boards which might well have been called "A Comedy of Errors." The first error was to suppose that the American people could forget the principles through which they have passed during the preceding three years and that they should know the cause of their troubles. The next error presented was their belief that the people were not in favor of a sound financial policy.

CHATTANOOGA WOMAN

Has Reason to Take Coffee Out of Her Family.

"After drinking coffee some years ago became badly run down in health, serious indigestion, flatulency and nervousness, with severe spells of sick headache.

"My physician advised me long ago to give up coffee. I was told it would be an impossibility, that I would rarely do without my breakfast and have coffee.

"About six months ago I tried Postum Coffee and made it strictly according to the directions. I was delighted with it that I immediately discarded coffee and began using Postum. I feel better, my nerves are stronger, my appetite is better and I never expect to again have symptoms of indigestion have disappeared. My weight has increased about twenty pounds and now weigh more than I ever weighed in my life.

"I have known people to try Postum and their aside, for the reason they made it carelessly. It has a delicious flavor and is dark and rich. Mocha or Java coffee is never so bold, but not boiled long enough it is tasteless. It is a navy bean, to prevent bubbles from coming over.

"My husband's weight has increased thirty pounds since he began drinking it and my little boy, who has been so delicate, has gained twenty pounds. I usually do, to use drink coffee at breakfast. After I gave him Postum for a few days he appeared to be getting and gaining in flesh daily. You can imagine we are strong friends of Postum.

LOVE VERSUS VOTES.

Lieut.-Col. Miss Mamie G. Morris Gives Her Views on Female Suffrage and Claims That Home Is Women's Hope.

Chattanooga, Tenn., Sept. 8.—(Special to The Herald.)—Woman is a sacred name. God made it so. Her sphere is not in doubt. It is in a kingdom called HOME.

The progress of the present century in America has wrought marvelous changes in every department of human effort. And custom and custom have in many ways been revolutionized. And while the tendency has been to reform, every reformer has been a reformer in his own way. It seems, however, that the reformers have been too busy to look at the home and the woman who is the heart of the nation.

This is a time when much is being said and written about political corruption, and how all other things should be made to fit in with it. It is a time when the woman who is the heart of the nation is being forgotten. It is a time when the woman who is the heart of the nation is being forgotten.

The only sane arguments ever advanced for giving women the vote are those which show that the woman who is the heart of the nation is being forgotten. It is a time when the woman who is the heart of the nation is being forgotten.

In regard to the first proposition, American women, who pay taxes, can safely entrust their interests to the wisdom of masculine voters. American men are honest, reliable and patriotic. In many ways our nation towers above all other nations in its majestic and regal grandeur. Especially is the present time marked in the laws of our nation.

COL. MISS MAMIE G. MORRIS.

They are just. They are honest and equitable. And they are much more intelligent than the men who are the heart of the nation. They are just. They are honest and equitable. And they are much more intelligent than the men who are the heart of the nation.

There is a cause behind every effect. There must be one behind our political reforms. What is it? There it is. It is the woman who is the heart of the nation.

LEO GREATEST STATESMAN NOW

Rome's Aged Pontiff Is the Sole Survivor of the Mighty Group In Which Bismarck and Gladstone Figured, Says the Great Historian, Justin McCarthy, M. P.

London, Sept. 8.—(Special to The Herald.)—Pope Leo is the last survivor of the great European statesmen of the century. During recent years of the century, Bismarck and Pope Leo XIII stood high above all other living statesmen of Europe. A little further back to some such men as Count Cavour, and Thiers, and Gladstone, further back still to such men as Channing, and then we come to the earlier part of the century. In recent years, however, Gladstone, Bismarck and Pope Leo XIII have stood alone.

I desire to judge Leo XIII only as a statesman, and not as an ecclesiastic. The intention of his whole career may be described as a passion of philanthropy, to adopt the words which Gladstone, in my own hearing applied to Dan CConnell, "to improve the condition of the toiling classes all over the world; to mitigate the troubles of the oppressed; to abolish slavery in every form, white and black; to lighten the load of the heavy laden; to spread the gospel of peace among the nations." These have been the purposes of Leo's career. It is hard to make more than have always to have guided him when we say that his ambition has been to make the life of the world a practical illustration of peace, goodwill and more—an intellectual advancement among men.

Leo came to the throne of the papacy at a time when the worldly conditions of that time seemed to be hopeless. He was a man who had no imperial ambition. He was a man who had no imperial ambition. He was a man who had no imperial ambition.

Leo has been a man of pure and exalted purpose, but he has almost entirely lost sight of the qualities of a statesman. He was not a man who had no imperial ambition. He was a man who had no imperial ambition.

world. "My business in life is the welfare of humanity; and the apostle of peace and universal brotherhood, I offer my mediation as an agent of peace and of brotherhood to all nations where the disputants are willing to receive my counsel and my help." He has had some hard battles to fight, however, for all his sweet, genial, pacific nature. He has fought out his battles in the end where compromise did not seem possible, and by his principle of passive resistance he has generally contrived to come off victorious. All the world looked on with interest while he battled for what he believed to be the cause of religious liberty against the Jesuit, an intriguer, than Prince Bismarck, the greatest statesman then living on the European continent. Bismarck had boldly proclaimed that whatever else he and his colleagues might do, they "would not touch the pope." But though Bismarck called the pope an "infamous scoundrel," he did not go to the extreme of attacking the pope's person. He was a shrewd statesman, and he was not a man who had no imperial ambition. Autos in Fall Manoeuvres.

General Staff of French Army Will Use Them, Frame Being Anxious to Be Ahead of All Competitors.

Paris, Sept. 8.—(Special to The Herald.)—Although, according to latest reports, the French army is not in reality what it appears on paper to be it is never behindhand in adopting novel features which will add to its efficiency.

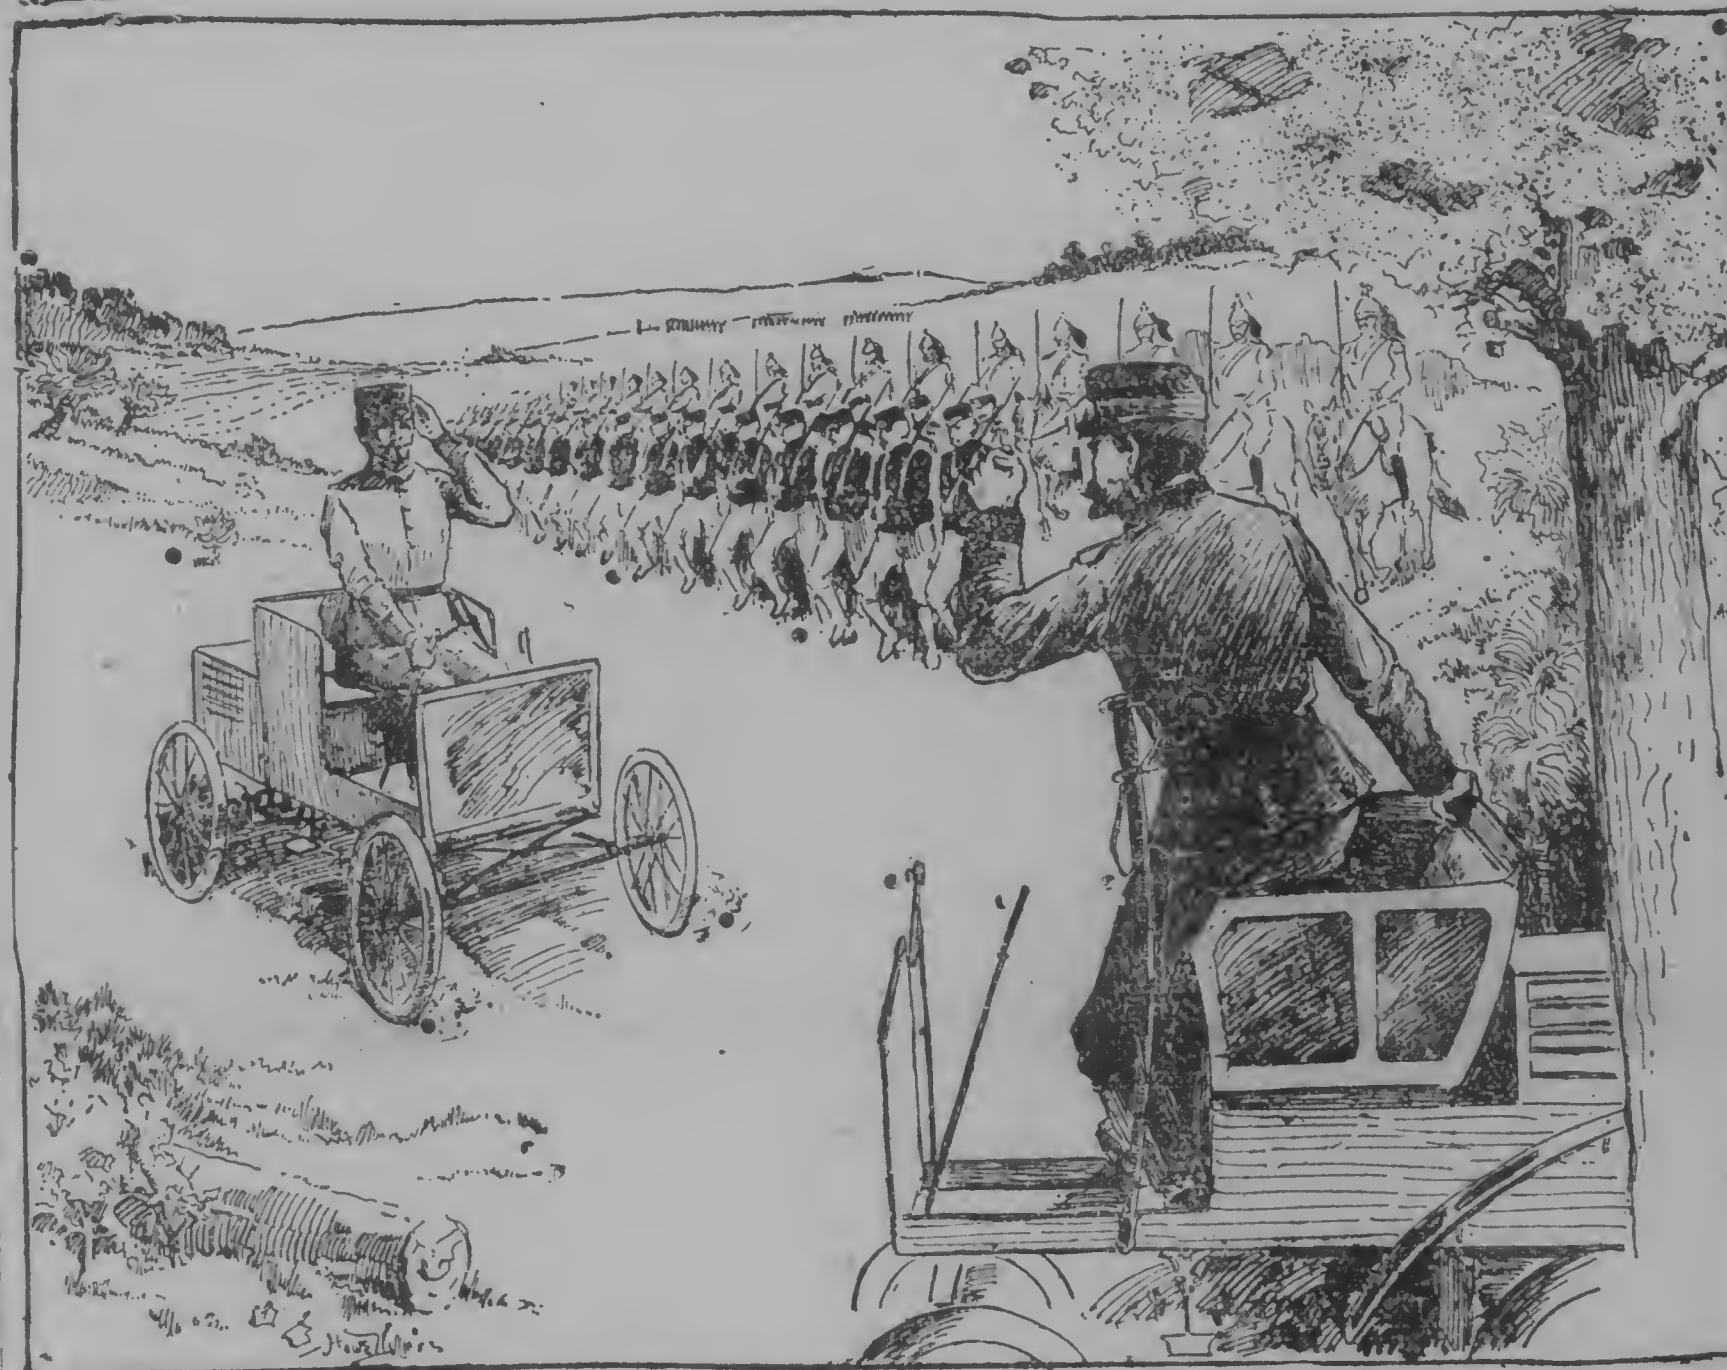

For instance, at the Chertemps manoeuvres, to be held this month, automobiles will be used entirely for conveying the general staff in lieu of horses as heretofore.

Owing to the fact that the officers are not at all expert automobilists arrangements have been made with the best amateur conductors to steer and supervise the vehicles. The general staff of these tests will rest with Mr. Journe and it will depend very much upon the results of the experiments whether they made to what extent the "auto" will supplant the horse for many military purposes.

The abolishing of infantry and cavalry entirely.

An army equipped with a sufficient number of automobiles, which it could protect, together with the rest of its baggage, would render it entirely independent of railroads and it could look upon the facilities of the enemy or even the blasting of the bridges if it were equipped with a proper flotta attachment.

The army automobile will be a very different affair to the one at present in use. It will be made in sections which can easily be put together or taken apart and in such a way that one section can be damaged. There will, of course, be various kinds of them and compressed air is favored for propulsion as it is not so liable to explode from the bursting of a shell should the machine be hit, which would be the case with gasoline or

This is the latest manifestation of Gallic enterprise—the automobile for army manoeuvres. Generals and their commissaries courtiers depart themselves in fiery horseless carriages, but the rank and file still hike it merrily over the pike.

PROGRESS IN AUTOMOBILES.

Program of Parades and Races Arranged at Chicago.

As an institution automobiles appear to be here to stay. Many experiments that have been made in automobilism have been discarded and lost sight of, but the last few years have brought into prominence the car as a means of transport. The automobile has been drawing large revenues from people who in most instances are not even aware of its existence. It is easy to see how they will enormously increase the strategic possibilities of a campaign. In such a neighboring country in Europe, for instance, should the railways have been successfully cut off, the army could have moved along the roads on automobiles, furnishing a splendid means of executing a flank movement.

From the tone of the authorities and the extent of inquiries made by them among automobile builders it is evident that wholesale changes are expected in the equipment of the army. What other changes are expected in the army should the experiments at Chertemps prove satisfactory.

To what extent this may mean the passing of the army horse can only be conjectured. It has been argued that when once the automobile became petroleum used. Some of these "mobes" will undoubtedly be armored at least heavily enough to stand rifle fire and in this respect they will supply a vastly more mobile and useful service than does the armored train.

I have no doubt that each of the great powers is experimenting more or less with the machines at it is positive that they will ultimately enter very largely into the field service of European armies, owing to their speed capabilities, imperviousness to fatigue and need of less impetus in the control of their iron steeds.

Again, should the resisting army have placed its main line of defence along the line of the railroad a splendid opportunity would be presented for an automobile division to press forward and attack in the rear while the main body of the army was engaged at the front, forcing the enemy from their position.

In fact to those who understood the possibilities of strategy such opportunities will be unfolded by the introduction of the automobile into actual warfare that it would necessitate the writing of a book upon the subject to describe them.

Suffice it to say that the idea is only in its infancy yet and that the French authorities are closely watching the automobile corps or the use of automobiles for many purposes would lead to that name.

Plans are under advisement for a big automobile for the New York fire department, similar to this one, which is in use at the French capital.

damaged the unlucky occupant would have to walk. This is no worse than would be the case if the horse were injured, and as a matter of fact not so bad, because a "mobe" is very much more easily patched up than is a horse.

Then the question of forage one of the most difficult for an invading army to solve, because the carrying of it is so awkward, is entirely eliminated.

The greatest difficulty that would be experienced in the substitution of machines for horses would be in cases where the troops were compelled to leave the ordinary routes of travel and enter in the way of using the "auto" would become very great. But of course it has not been thought for a moment that an automobile corps or the use of automobiles for many purposes would lead to that name.

Mrs. T. P. O'Connor's play on the struggles of the late Charles Sumner, "The Last Days of Pompeii," which is to be produced in September as "The Last Days of Pompeii," will make his next bid for popular recognition of Finley, Peter Dinklage's celebrated sketches of that name.

Art Notes By Howe Williams. the Great New York Illustrator.

The amount realized this year from the sales at the exhibition of the Royal Academy in London is, approximately, $80,000. This is about $20,000 less than was realized last year. The conclusion is that the English and Krupp's and Maxim's more useful yet at present than Whistler's and Ladam's.

The record of the election of Val Pringle to a professorship of painting at the Royal Academy in London does not seem to have been followed by a wave of popular approval.

At the Paris exposition grand prizes have just been awarded to William C. Orchardson and Sir Lawrence Alma-Tadema.

A popular vote was recently taken by a London newspaper for the purpose of discovering the public opinion concerning the best pictures of the year. Frank Dicksee's "Two Crows" received the largest number of votes. I hazard the guess that Mr. Dicksee's "Two Crows" really is the best picture in the gallery.

A pretty thousand dollars is said to be the price paid by William C. Whitely for the Titian "Danae and the Golden Rain" now on the way to his country. The painting is a well known example of Titian's best efforts. There are four with its progress. He resolved, apparently, to make the papacy as example to the Christian world instead of wasting its strength and his influence by trying to contend against the physical conditions which had left the pope in the position of a man who had no imperial ambition. Of course he surrendered nothing of the claims of the papacy, and he recognized the king of Italy's title to the ownership of Rome. But he made little of his time in battle efforts to resist the physical mastery of the new conditions. He made it his task above all things to have that the moral influence of the papacy was not to be circumscribed by the limitations of the pope's earthly position. It was the progress made by Leo XIII in the progress of the papacy that he had in mind. He had in mind the progress of the papacy that he had in mind. equality and religious freedom has enabled its co-religionists to take in the United States. Some of Pope Leo's recent days have been occupied in the consideration of certain tendencies which have been reported to him as making themselves apparent in American Catholicism, tendencies which some of his advisers believed to indicate a great for religious independence, not unlike that which is set down as Gallicanism in Europe. It is impossible for any impartial reader not to sympathize with the spirit which pervades the pope's encyclical issued in August, 1888, a protest against the extraordinary suppression of Catholic associations carried out by the Italian government. These suppositions, it will be remembered, took place after the riots which had lately broken out throughout almost all Italy, riots which impartial observers for the most part believed to have been caused by the pressure of famine. The pope himself coming in great measure from aversion to the expenditure on arms and navy for the present war, the Italian government thought fit to see in these riots the evidence of a papal conspiracy against the monarchy, and it therefore, suppressed by wholesale decrees more than 1600 Catholic associations which were for the most part purely

The Flannel Waist In All Its Shapes and Phases Now Comes Conspicuously to the Front—French Plan to Alter Form of the Popular Blouse.

New York, Sept. 8.—(Special to The Herald.)—While the fashions are still in a tentative uncertain state the flannel waist in all its shapes and phases comes conspicuously to the front. The first sign of autumn in the air reminds us that we must be fortified against the twinges of cold and our earliest and wisest purchase is the flannel blouse which makes its appearance in such charming forms that it is hard to resist. Besides it is the one truly fixed and certain fashion for the first fall days.

With one or two blouse waists and a smart new skirt we are prepared to tide over these momentous weeks of early autumn when the styles are receding their final stamp and seal, and post-with loving persistence. On the whole we may congratulate ourselves for its renewed vigor this season and drink to the toast "long live the blouse" for there is no style of dress that gives so little trouble and so much variety.

The blouse form by no means confines itself, however, and appears again in tailor made suits, jackets and coats, some of which touch over the left breast in the back and front. The very chic model traveling gown present this week is an example of this style whose popularity will doubtless increase as the season flows a drier.

But to return to our flannel waists. At a showing just given by a prominent importer, here were several distinctive models which will doubtless of which buttoned over itself at the wrist with crocheted buttons to match the goods. Thirdly the flowing sleeve with fingered half sleeves was to be noted but is after all only a feature high priced and expensive models. Taffeta plays an important part in the ornamentation of these new waists. Strappings of stitched taffeta coloring of the blouse or in black, on one line of models was very much in evidence. These strappings encircled the blouse between the shoulders and waist and were curved slightly to a point in the center of the back. The collar and cuffs corresponded with these trimmings. The high standing collar with the upward curve under the ear still persists. In other models taffeta was used in a fluted stitched collar which encircled the neck and continued in reverse down the front leaving an open V which was filled in with a chemise of tucked fabric of the shade of the flannel blouse. Silk embroidery plays an important part in decoration also. Besides the small embroidered polka dot which we have long seen there are designs of running veins closely placed and extremely large dots widely spaced and embroidered in contrasting colors to the flannel ground. Besides these are crescents and geometrical designs.

The more expensive waists show designs of motifs of bands of color. Embroidery upon a white silk canvas ground—used as strappings upon the collar and the wrist, and also over the body of the blouse.

A very attractive model was of a de-

A Doctor's Prescription

Mr. J. M. Stephenson, of the New York Life Insurance Company, Buffalo, N. Y., says:

WOMEN! REMEMBER THIS.

In addressing Mrs. Pinkham you are communicating with a woman—a woman whose experience in treating woman's ills is greater than that of any living person.

A woman can talk freely to a woman when it is revolting to relate her private troubles to a man.

Many women suffer in silence and drift along from bad to worse, knowing full well that they should have immediate assistance, but a natural modesty keeps them from exposing themselves to the questions and probable examination of even their family physician. It is unnecessary. Without money or price you can consult a woman, whose knowledge from 20 years' actual experience is invaluable. Women suffering from any form of female weakness are invited to freely communicate with Mrs. Pinkham at Lynn, Mass.

All letters are received, opened, read, and answered by women only.

This is a positive fact—not a mere statement—easily verified—thus has been established the eternal confidence between Mrs. Pinkham and the women of America, which has never been broken, and has induced more than 100,000 sufferers to write her for advice during the last few months.

Out of the vast volume of experience which she has to draw from, it is more than possible that she has gained the very knowledge that will help your case. She asks nothing in return except your good-will, and her advice has relieved thousands. Here are some of the cases we refer to:

Another Woman Who Acknowledges the Help she has Received from Mrs. Pinkham.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM—The doctor says I have congestion of the womb, and cannot help me. There is aching in the right side of abdomen, hip, leg, and back. If you can do me any good, please write." Mrs. Nina Chase, Fulton, N. Y., December 20, 1897.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM—I followed your instructions, and now I want every woman suffering from female trouble to know how good your advice and medicine is. The doctor advised an operation. I could not bear to think of that, so followed your advice. I got better right off. I took six bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and used three packages of Sanative Wash; also took your Liver Pills, and am cured." Mrs. Nina Chase, Fulton, N. Y., December 12, 1898.

"Please accept my sincere thanks for the good your advice and Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done me. I did everything you told me to do, and used only three bottles, and feel better in every respect." Mrs. Carl Voss, Sac City, Iowa, August 1, 1899.

Mrs. Voss cured of Periodical Pains and Perpetual Headaches by Following Mrs. Pinkham's Counsel.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM—I have been suffering for over a year and had three doctors. At time of menstruation I suffer terrible pains in back and ovaries. I have headache nearly every day, and feel tired all the time. The doctor said my womb was out of place. Would be so glad if you could help me." Mrs. Carl Voss, Sac City, Iowa, August 1, 1899.

Mrs. Pinkham has Fifty Thousand Such Letters as Above on File at Her Office—She Makes No Statements She Cannot Prove.

There are three of the popular styles in fall but it is evident that the millinery is in a transition state. The styles in fall are of soft felt with many rows of sticks. The crown is covered with a scarf and the collar shape which we welcome most cordially is being of black shading into a rich blue at the side.

Tooth Powder

AN ELEGANT TOILET LUXURY.

Used by people of refinement for over a quarter of a century.

Two contrasting styles are here shown in coats. The first one, which shows effective turned back collar and cuffs, is extremely smart and jaunty. The sleeves which are easy and free blouse slightly from the elbow to the wrist where the fullness is held by a small strap. In the second the revival of the shawl collar of fur is a marked change in the styles. The sleeve follows the straight cut style and the body of the jacket is decorated with lines of stitching and straps.

MOVEMENT OF LUMBER

Doing Out Freely and a Number of Sales Being Made.

GETTING LOGS OUT

Million Feet a Day Coming Down Nemadji River at Present.

There is a very free movement of lumber out of the local port at the present time. The shipments for the past month from two of the head of the lakes ports, Duluth and Two Harbors, amounted to 4,000,000 feet. Shipments last week were close to 8,000,000 feet.

A greater activity in the general market is reported and during the past week there have been many buyers in Duluth. Inquiries are being received by local lumbermen and commission dealers and the stumpage market is said to be looking up again. Local lumbermen expect to see a better market from now on and good sales are looked for up to the close of the season of navigation. There is now no doubt but that the local lumber firms will carry over a much larger stock than they did last year.

Among the sales made last week were 2,000,000 feet by the Red Cliff Lumber company to Buffalo parties. The lumber is of various grades and dimensions, and is to be delivered in thirty and sixty days. One lot only has sold a million and a half feet of match lumber to go by rail to Milwaukee. D. C. Thompson & Co. have sold 600,000 feet of lumber, all of No. 3 and better to go East. Some good sales are also reported to local millmen. The Duluth-Jackson Lumber company sold 2,000,000 feet of Norway bluestick, the first lot of their new mill. H. J. Campbell sold 700,000 feet to Detroit and San Francisco.

Plans are said to have settled to about the following schedule for the present: No. 5, No. 4, 4,100,000; No. 3, 3,100,000; No. 2, 2,100,000; No. 1, 1,100,000. According to the stock and portions of the higher grades.

Little work is yet being done toward preparing for winter camps, the wet weather having proven a drawback. The Duluth Lumber company will build camps in township 64, range 15 and 16 during the next two weeks, and will make a large output for the fall mill.

While wages are much firmer in the camps owing to the increased demand for labor, the local market is said to be in a position to handle the increased output. The Duluth-Jackson Lumber company is said to be in a position to handle the increased output. The Duluth-Jackson Lumber company is said to be in a position to handle the increased output.

TO MAKE A FIGHT

Superior Leader Advertising Men Secure Page Morris to Appear For Them.

IS WELL CONNECTED

One of Men Is Brother-in-Law of Senator Beveridge—Will Resist Tradition.

Congressman Page Morris appeared in police court this morning on behalf of a brother-in-law of Senator Beveridge of Indiana. The young man was arraigned on a complaint charging him with being a fugitive from justice. His name is W. H. Langsdale. With him was C. E. Doren, both being wanted in West Superior for the alleged embezzlement of $450 from the Superior Leader company. There is probably much more behind the case than appears on the face of the complaint. Both men were bright-looking, immaculately dressed, but rather nervous. In appearance and manner they were far above the ordinary run of individuals gathered in police court, and it was obvious that they felt decidedly out of place.

For some weeks past the two young men have been working Superior for a special edition of the Superior Leader. Langsdale is the brother-in-law of Senator Beveridge. It is charged that from advertising sources and for advertisements run in the Superior Leader they collected $450. President Palmer claimed this money and Saturday made a demand for it. The men refused to give it up, claiming that they were entitled to it as their percentage of the earnings of the special edition. Mr. Palmer immediately swore out a warrant charging them with embezzlement, and while there was an adjournment of time for the Wisconsin officials to have served it, they neglected to do so until Mr. Langsdale and Mr. Doren came over here Saturday morning on the 11:15 train to the Twin Cities. Then Deputy Sheriff McCabe called on Detective Foxworth and the two young men were taken from their berth in the sleeper and locked up in jail over night.

The first thing young Langsdale did when locked up was to ask the name and address of the most prominent Republican attorney in the city. The name of one was given him, but when the attorney heard of the case he had been so long since he refused to take the matter to court that he was afraid the judge would not know him. Langsdale then sought for Congressman Morris, who is close friend of Senator Beveridge. To Mr. Morris the young man established his relationship with the Indiana senator, and asked his advice. Through him they decided to engage John L. Perrin, one of the leading attorneys of West Superior.

It was decided that the men should not go back to Wisconsin with a bail against extradition, Congressman Morris claiming that their arrest was a barefaced attempt to collect a debt. Langsdale and Doren are now in the custody of the sheriff, and it is expected that they will be taken to jail over night.

Langsdale and Doren are now in the custody of the sheriff, and it is expected that they will be taken to jail over night.

The first thing young Langsdale did when locked up was to ask the name and address of the most prominent Republican attorney in the city. The name of one was given him, but when the attorney heard of the case he had been so long since he refused to take the matter to court that he was afraid the judge would not know him. Langsdale then sought for Congressman Morris, who is close friend of Senator Beveridge. To Mr. Morris the young man established his relationship with the Indiana senator, and asked his advice. Through him they decided to engage John L. Perrin, one of the leading attorneys of West Superior.

It was decided that the men should not go back to Wisconsin with a bail against extradition, Congressman Morris claiming that their arrest was a barefaced attempt to collect a debt. Langsdale and Doren are now in the custody of the sheriff, and it is expected that they will be taken to jail over night.

KEEPING AT IT!

Some lines of goods must be advertised the year round, others only at special seasons. Spurges in advertising do not pay. The persistent ad catches trade.

A man contemplating publicity should appropriate such an amount of money as he can spare from his capital. He should then select the best mediums to reach the particular class of people to whom he is catering.

The ads should be carefully prepared so that no space is wasted. They should be pointed in character, each telling its own story in such a way that no one who has read it can forget it.

If the article offered for sale has any real merit and the advertising is kept up the sales will increase steadily and a fortune will result.—Fourth Estate.

KNEIVE OF EGYPT.

Mode of Life and the Characteristics of Abbas.

The life of his highness is very different from that which in the western world is usually associated with an eastern sovereign. To begin with the Khedive has received a splendid European education. He learned English as a child under tutors, especially selected and sent to Cairo for his benefit and that of his brother, Prince Melmet.

When 12 years of age he entered the celebrated Harkness school, at Geneva, and afterward continued his scholastic career at the Thurgau school, at Vienna, from which he was called by the sudden death of his father, the Khedive Tewfik, to ascend the throne of Egypt, at the age of 18, in 1882. At Vienna he was something of a favorite with the Austrian Emperor, who also saw that the prince was given a military training in addition to his ordinary school work. Naturally highly intelligent, Abbas proved himself both industrious and capable. He has the gift of tongues, and can talk in at least six languages—English, French, German, Italian, Turkish and Arabic, the last being in common use throughout Egypt. Every official day of his life he will most probably converse in at least four of these languages.

MR. FREIMUTH RETURNS.

Has Established an Office in New York With Permanent Buyer.

F. Freimuth has just returned from a six weeks' visit at New York and other Eastern markets, where he has been to select to fall and winter stock for the greater Freimuth store. Mr. Freimuth says he is glad to get back to the cooler climate at the head of the lakes after enduring the great heat now experienced in the East. Since his trip, he is more than ever convinced that Duluth is a city that has made the most of a hot summer. He says that the conditions in the East are very good, and are as yet very little affected by the presidential campaign. In fact, he says, there is comparatively little talk of politics in the East and business conditions have been affected less this year than in previous campaigns.

Mr. Freimuth, while in New York, established an office in that city where he will have a large located permanently, to watch the market from day to day.

On the Other Side.

To the Editor of The Herald: In last Saturday's Herald, Charles J. Harris, father of Charles A. Harris, is reported as saying that A. A. Harris, residing at Columbia hall Friday evening, criticizing C. A. Harris' Army speech. "C. A. Harris taught under Jeff Davis in the civil war. I thought he was wrong then and was the only education and natural instincts he is fighting under Mr. King now to subjugate the South of liberty loving people. I still think he is wrong and am on the other side now."

If the bloody shirt is to be waved again after these many years, as a Union soldier of the civil war, I have just this to say. In accordance with their early education and natural instincts, the solid Democratic majority in the Southern states are now fighting under Bryan in the interest of the Philippines and apparently caring very little for the interests of the people of America. In 1898, I thought these Southern Democrats were wrong, and was on the other side. Now, fighting for a people 3,000 miles away from the other side of the globe, instead of directing their best energies for the welfare of the people of this country, "I still think they are wrong, and am on the other side now."

Respectfully,
Late of Eleventh Ohio Battery.

TEDDY IN WISCONSIN

LaCrosse Spreads Itself On a Reception For the Rough Rider.

LEADERS ARE THERE

Collection of Wisconsin Republican Lights, and Nelson Helps It Along.

La Crosse, Wis., Sept. 10.—Elaborate preparations have been made here for the two meetings to be held here today on the occasion of the visit of Governor Roosevelt. The first meeting will be held at 2 o'clock in the afternoon for the benefit of visitors from different points in the vicinity, and the evening meeting at 8 o'clock for the inhabitants of the city. Both meetings will be held at the Empire rink, central part of the city of La Crosse.

The McKinley-Roosevelt Marching club from Sparta, 150 strong, headed by the Sparta Cornet band and commanded by A. L. Richards, of the Third regiment Wisconsin state guards, was a feature of the parade. The city was handsomely decorated with flags, bunting and with a large picture of the presidential and vice presidential candidates.

Senator Knute Nelson of Minnesota will be present during the day, and Congressman Edw. H. Edwards of the Seventh district of the state will preside.

Robert M. La Follette, candidate for governor, Gen. Bryan, chairman of the Wisconsin state central committee, and Senator J. V. Quarles are accompanying Governor Roosevelt on his trip through the state.

These two meetings will fairly open the Republican campaign in this state, and the indications are now that they will be largely attended.

A special train from Madison arrived this morning, bearing a large crowd of visitors to the day meeting. As Governor Roosevelt makes no other speeches in the state, a special effort has been made by the central committee to enable as many citizens to attend as possible.

Localities in remote parts of the state have now or will have large delegations here. The demonstration promises to be one of the most important in point of number, vim and influence that has been held in the West.

The train bearing the vice presidential party arrived promptly at 11 o'clock. The station platform and streets around the depot were thronged with thousands of citizens to catch a glimpse of the candidates' desire of the day. There was much cheering when the candidates stepped from the car and were escorted to the waiting carriages by the reception committee.

The street parade followed, after which the governor was driven to the hotel for lunch and a little rest before the ceremonies at 2 o'clock.

Governor Roosevelt said: "This is no ordinary campaign, for it properly goes beyond city and party lines, and we appeal to all good citizens to stand with us, alike in the national interest and the national honor. We ask the support not only of Republicans but of all Democrats who put their loyalty to their country above their party name and have repudiated all its best principles."

He said that he had received many letters from Democrats who have thus placed patriotism above party lines, and that he was glad to see them.

STRIKE FEELING DYING.
The Anthracite Coal Miners Are Settling Down Again.

Wilkes-Barre, Pa., Sept. 11.—The excitement over the threatened strike of miners in the Wyoming valley has entirely died out. The only murmur of discontent comes from Plymouth, where the United Mine Workers' organization is very strong. The miners here say that the executive board at Indianapolis played into the hands of the operators, settling the strike had been declared Saturday night as expected, $2 per cent of the men employed in the mines in Plymouth and vicinity would have laid down their tools at once.

A. Haines, persons, Sugar Notch and other towns in the valley, the miners appear to be perfectly satisfied with the terms in the strike and it would be a somewhat difficult matter to arouse their enthusiasm in the striking point again. In the meantime, the operators are doing nothing but mining coal. Every colliery is being worked to its fullest capacity and more coal is being mined than at any time in the history of the valley.

EXTREME DESTRUCTION.

The Terrific Wind That Caused the Awful Disaster at Galveston.

Buildings Fell and Crashed and Roofs Whistled Through the Air.

Galveston, Texas.—Special by Western Union dispatch boat to Houston, Sept. 10.—The terrific cyclone that produced such a distressing disaster was predicted by the United States weather bureau to strike Galveston Friday night and created much apprehension, but the night passed without the prediction being verified. The conditions, however, were ominous, the danger signal was displayed on the flagstaff of the weather bureau, shipping was warned, etc. The southeastern sky was somber, the gulf beat high on the beach with that dismal, thunderous roar that presaged trouble, while the air had the stillness that betokens a storm. From out of the north, in the middle watches of the night, the wind began to come in spiteful puffs, increasing in volume as the day dawned.

By 10 o'clock Saturday morning, it was almost a gale, and by noon it had increased in velocity, whipping the telegraph poles and tearing things up in a lively manner, yet no serious apprehension was felt by the residents. From the enforcements of the gulf, residents near the beach were aroused to the danger that threatened them. Stupendous waves began to sweep their waters far inland, and the people began a hasty exit to secure places in the city.

Two gigantic forces were at work. The gulf force drove the waves with irresistible force high upon the beach and the gale from the northeast pitched the waves against the shore, the wharves, choking the sewers and flooding the city from that quarter.

The streets rapidly began to fill with water. Communication became difficult and the helpless people were caught between two powerful elements. The winds howled and rapidly increased in velocity.

Business suddenly came to a standstill, car traffic was impossible, and all those that had homes and could reach them either by conveyance or otherwise, hastily left their places of business and offered fabulous prices for any kind of a vehicle that would carry them to their loved ones.

Railroad communication was cut off shortly after the first of the waves washed out; wire facilities completely failed at 3 o'clock and Galveston was isolated from the world.

The wind, momentarily increased in velocity, while the waters rose rapidly and the night darkness and the apprehension depicted in the face of everyone.

Already hundreds and thousands were anxiously struggling with their families against the mad waves and fierce winds for places of refuge. The public school buildings, court house and in fact every place that offered an apparent safe refuge from the elements, became crowded to their utmost.

Two minutes of 5:30 p. m., just before the anemometer blew away, it had reached the frightful velocity of 100 miles an hour. Buildings that had hitherto stood, tumbled and crashed, carrying death and destruction to hundreds of people. Windows whistled through the air, roofs were driven in with a crash or shattered by flying slate, telegraph, telephone and electric light poles, with their masses of wires, were snapped off like pipe stems, and water communications were broken. What was left of the wind attained after the anemometer blew off is purely a matter of speculation.

The lowest point touched by the barometer in the press correspondent's office, which was filled with frightened men and women, was 28.04. This was about 7:30 p. m. It then began to rise very slowly and by 10 p. m. had reached 29.00. The wind gradually subsiding and by midnight the storm had passed. The water, which had reached a depth of eight feet on the strand at 10 o'clock p. m., began to ebb and ran out very rapidly, and by 5 a. m. the crown of the street was free of water. Thus passed one of the most frightful and destructive storms which ever devastated the coast of Texas.

THE KILLED AT GALVESTON.
Partial List of the Victims of the Storm.

Galveston, Texas, Sept. 11.—The following is a partial list of the dead as gathered by the News. It was sent by a tug to Houston:

Stanley G. Spencer, local representative of W. W. W. Co., completely wrecked steamship line and North German Lloyd line. Charles I. Kelly, Sr., a prominent cotton man. Richard Lord, traffic manager. W. L. Daly, agent for Charles and many head of stock killed. Flying debris injured several people. Two banding cars were blown out on the main line and whistled along by the wind sixteen miles to Sandy Point, where they collided with a number of other boarding cars, killing two and injuring thirteen occupants.

A dead child and the destruction of all houses and the destitution of all families is the record of the work of the hurricane at Aracada.

From fifty other towns, come reports that buildings were wrecked or demolished. Most of them have injured people in them, but no dead are reported.

HOUSTON PEOPLE VICTIMS.
Five Are Drowned at Seabrooke During the Storm.

Houston, Texas, Sept. 11.—At a local undertaking establishment are resting the remains of five Houston people who perished at Seabrooke in Saturday's hurricane. They are: Mrs. C. H. Lucy, her two small children; Haven Melhenny, and the 5-year old son of David Rice. The latter was visiting the family of Mrs. Melhenny at the time of the disaster.

All of the bodies are so badly mangled and buffeted about by drift and wreckage as to make it very difficult to identify them. They were washed ashore near Seabrooke.

The same train brought the bodies of Mrs. Vincent and her two children, who were drowned at Morgan's point.

Mr. Melhenny was rescued alive, exhausted and in a state of terrible nervousness. He was brought in on the afternoon train from Lamarque and is now in his home in this city, completely prostrated.

Mr. Melhenny says the water came up so rapidly that he and his family sought safety upon the roof. He had Haven in his arms and the other children were in a state of terror. It was not long before a heavy piece of timber struck Haven, killing him. He then took up young Haven in his arms and he had him in his arms he was twice washed off the roof, and in this way Rice was drowned. Mrs. Lucy's oldest child, next killed by a piece of timber and the younger one was drowned, and next Mrs. Lucy was washed off and drowned, thus leaving Mr. and Mrs. Melhenny the only occupants on the roof. Finally, the roof blew off the house, and as it fell into the water it was broken in twain. Mrs. Melhenny remaining on one half and Mr. Melhenny on the other. The portion of the roof to which Mrs. Melhenny clung turned over and this was the last seen of her. There, in a very brief space of time, Mr. Melhenny witnessed the loss of his family, and as his mind was so much distracted, he was unable to recall the details of the disaster.

ROADS SUFFER HEAVILY.
Texas Storm Will Cost Them Millions of Dollars.

Houston, Texas, Sept. 11.—The railroads will suffer the loss of millions of dollars on actual damage, to say nothing of the loss from stoppage of business. At Galveston, the storm has wrecked bridges and tracks are ruined. The costly bridges which connect the island are in ruins and must be entirely rebuilt.

The railroads of the Gulf and Great Northern and Santa Fe have considerable track and rolling stock on the Galveston, Houston and Texas coast. The Galveston, Houston and Texas coast. The Galveston, Houston and Texas coast.

ARTILLERYMEN SAFE.
No Lives Lost in First Artillery at Galveston.

Washington, Sept. 11.—Capt. Gen. Corbin has received a dispatch from Capt. Raftery, commanding Battery O, First Artillery, stationed at Galveston, Texas, dated Sunday, Sept. 10. It reports no loss of life in his command, but says the records of the post have been destroyed and asks for duplicate records from the war department.

ORGANIZED FOR RELIEF.
Committee at Houston to Distribute Supplies to Sufferers.

Houston, Texas, Sept. 11.—Pursuant to the proclamation of Mayor Brashear, issued Sunday night, a citizens' meeting was held in the city council chamber last night when an organization effected for the relief of storm victims at Galveston and other places.

The following telegram came to the mayor from Governor Sayers during the morning.

Galveston, Texas, Sept. 10.—I have taken the liberty of directing that all supplies of food and clothing for Galveston be shipped to you. Will you undertake to forward them to the city of Galveston for distribution? Answer quick.

JOSEPH D. SAYERS, Governor.

Mayor Brashear immediately replied that all supplies would be distributed where most needed.

The Chinese from Anconia were received that there were twenty-five persons there, most women and children, in urgent need of relief.

STREET SWEEP CLEAN.
Frightful Havoc Among Residences on the Galveston Beach.

Houston, Texas, Sept. 11.—Additional details from Galveston show that on West Thirty-third street, the storm swept the ground perfectly clear of the residences that once stood upon it and piled them in a conglomeration of mass blocks back on the beach, throwing the piling with the debris and the bodies of its many victims. Many of them were lying out in the afternoon sun and were frightful to look upon.

The fourth wreck of the storm was not confined to the district along the beach, but took in all the districts of the city and Denver resurvey, but it was near to the beach that the most destruction to human life occurred. The vastness of the Home of the Homeless, and it is thought that the inmates, consisting of thirteen orphans and three adults, were completely wrecked. Out in the Denver resurvey, the destruction was terrible and victims of the storm were greatly damaged and the buildings on the beach were washed out into the gulf and their occupants are thought to have perished.

In the north part of the West end, the damage was great also, nearly every building was completely wrecked. Much valuable machinery is ruined. However, the loss of life was not nearly so great in that district as it was out towards the beach.

AFFAIRS IN PEKIN

Best of Relations Exist
Among the Troops of the Allies.

THE PALACE PARADE
Long Procession Marched
Through and Tea Served—
Officers Buy Loot.

Shanghai, Sept. 11.—(Copyrighted, 1900, by the Associated Press.)—The Taku steamer which has arrived here brings reports of latest events in Pekin. These reports are to the effect that the greatest harmony prevails among the officers of the allies, who treat each other with extreme courtesy, and that the soldiers were living as though members of one army. Late arrivals say that if any clash occurs during the occupation of Pekin it will be brought on by the diplomats in Europe and not by soldiers in the field.

The march through the palace was a historic event. The army was represented. The Russian led and the troops of other nationalities followed. The order previously reported by cable. Each regiment of Americans who participated in the relief was represented by at least 100 men. Gen. Chaffee, Gen. Barry and other officers leading. A Russian band and the Sikh's happiness played national airs while the troops filed through the grounds and buildings.

There were many eunuchs attached to the palace remaining and they stood by looking as though they were attending a funeral. They were evidently deeply humiliated.

After the procession, which began to move at 8 o'clock in the morning and was an hour and a half in passing through the grounds, a party of civilians, including the legation ladies and some prominent missionaries, were admitted. Tea was served to them and the palace was inspected.

The most remarkable features of the buildings are said to be the gilded exterior stair cases, carved from single stones with dragons, lions and other ornaments. The empress's bed is covered with solid gold. After the inspection the palace gates were again closed and no one was permitted to enter the grounds. The troops arriving here are forwarded to Pekin as fast as they land.

The city has been entirely looted, except the palace. The auction sales of loot, in which valuable silks, furs and bronzes are the principal articles, are held daily. The chief bidders at these sales are army officers.

The newspaper correspondents had a disagreement with the officers, who declared at first that no correspondent should be admitted to the palace, but the press representatives were finally allowed to accompany the troops.

The Chinese forts at Pitsang, near Taku, are still undisturbed. The British commander says he will remain passive until he is attacked, when he will fight to save himself. The Russians are to attack soon, but they lack sufficient artillery for their purpose. A Russian scouting party was blown up by a mine near the forts and several of its members were killed.

The commanders of the Chinese forces at Cho Foo are greatly disturbed by reports that the Germans propose taking the forts, and they are threatening to defend them to the end. The heavily-armed Krupps in the foreign settlement will be destroyed if a fight occurs.

The United States battleship Oregon arrived at Wonsung today. She steamed at good speed throughout the trip. Her officers say she is in perfect condition for the present, though the repairs made were of a temporary character.

CREDENTIALS PASSED AROUND.
Chinese Envoys Get Their Papers as Peace Plenipotentiaries.

London, Sept. 11.—The Chinese minister in London, Sir Chih Chen Loh, is understood to have received from Li Hung Chang a copy of the credentials emanating from the imperial household, appointing the plenipotentiaries to conduct the negotiations for peace and laying down the conditions in relation thereto. It is related that the Chinese ministers to other capitals, and that the credentials are such that will satisfy the European and American governments.

In that district is a reformer representative of the Associated Press that he had received a decree similar to the one, Ping, handed to the state department at Washington, and added that he transmitted the decree to the foreign office this afternoon.

ORDERED TO PEKIN.
Emperor Sends For Li to Arrange For Peace.

Washington, Sept. 11.—Minister Wu has received a cable dispatch from Earl Li Hung Chang, giving an imperial edict, signed by the emperor, directing him to proceed immediately to Pekin and there to co-operate with Prince Ching toward peace negotiations and a settlement of all war difficulties. The edict is dated Aug. 27. Accordingly Li Hung Chang and his family are probably will leave Shanghai at once, going by sea.

Sir Robert Hart, imperial minister of customs, has been asked to procure steamer accommodations for the 10th, Minister Wu, will ask that a United States gunboat be designated for Earl Li's use.

FORCES TO PAOTINGFU.
Detachments of the Allies Setting
Out For There.

Chow Foo, Sept. 9, via Shanghai, Sept. 10.—The Paotungfu expedition leaving today numbers 400 men.

Taku, Sept. 6, via Shanghai, Sept. 10.—The expedition to Paotungfu will leave on Friday. It is made up as follows: British, two regiments of cavalry, a battery of horse artillery and 300 infantry; Italians, 1000; Japanese, 200; Russians, 200; and Americans, 500.

JAPAN ACQUIESCENT.
She Does Not Object to Withdrawing From Pekin.

London, Sept. 11.—The Tokyo correspondent of the Times, writing Sept. 8, says: Japan replies that she will not object to the withdrawal of her minister from Pekin and to the other measures recommended by the concert of powers, and since her geographical position enables the prompt adoption of necessary military and naval measures, she is willing to withdraw her troops.

According to trustworthy rumors, Russia is preparing to enter 15,000 troops at Chihli.

A VILLAGE RIOT.
Trouble at Taku...The Meade
at Hong Kong.

Hong Kong, Sept. 11.—There was a riot in the village of Taku last evening, but the Western police sent reinforcements and quelled the disorders. Nine arrests were made.

The United States transport Meade has arrived here from Manila to be docked.

GOES IT ALONE.
Italian Cabinet Decides to Act Independently in Dealing With China.

London, Sept. 11.—A special dispatch from Rome says the Italian cabinet has decided to initiate immediately negotiations with China. It will formulate demands for an indemnity, and if they are accepted, Italian intervention will be confined to the present, and there is no tendency to further warfare in China will be considered.

THE MAINE ELECTION.
The Returns Show Republican Loss
and Democratic Gain.

Lewiston, Me., Sept. 11.—Returns from 250 towns and plantations of 512 in the state give Hill, (Rep.), 55,224, and Lord, (Dem.), 39,922. Some losses in 1896 were gave Powers, (Rep.), 60,574, and Frank, (Dem.), 24,754. This shows a Republican loss of 3 per cent, and a Democratic gain of 15 per cent.

On this basis, it is estimated that the Republican plurality this year will be about 35,000.

POSTMASTERS AND PENSIONS.
The Day's Record For the Sixth District.

Washington, Sept. 11.—(Special to The Herald.)—Peter J. Edin has been appointed postmaster at Sago, Anoka county, vice Reuben Guy, resigned.

The following pensions were granted today: Additional—Nichols Kirsh, of Rockville, 312; Spanish war original—Henry A. Dudley, of Verndale, 88.

BRITONS ARE AROUSED.
They Want a Boat to Beat the Deutschland.

London, Sept. 11.—The remarkable run of the Hamburg-American line steamship Deutschland is exciting unusual interest in this city, and there is complaint because British vessels are thus distanced in the speed competition. The Daily Chronicle points out the danger that, in the event of war, British trade would be at the mercy of such swift commerce destroyers and says that the government and nation must look to it.

The Cunard line manager, who was interviewed yesterday, said: "There is no doubt that Germany is attituding before the imperial household, and pointing the plenipotentiaries to conduct the negotiations for peace and laying down the conditions in relation thereto. It is related that the Chinese ministers to other capitals, and that the credentials are such that will satisfy the European and American governments."

In that district is a reformer representative of the Associated Press that he had received a decree similar to the one, Ping, handed to the state department at Washington, and added that he transmitted the decree to the foreign office this afternoon.

Encampment Reports.

At a very interesting meeting of the J. R. Myers Wires Again, held last evening in the Masonic Temple, Capt. J. R. Myers, of the 1st Minnesota, made reports of the recent national encampment held in Chicago. They had particular stress on the action of the encampment in unanimously adopting a resolution that no encampment should be held in 1901 unless the railroad companies agree to give a cent a mile rate.

It was decided to have a camp fire on the second meeting night in October, at which the department officers are expected to attend.

J. R. Myers Wires Again.

A telegram received today by the Myers brothers from their brother, J. R. Myers, of Texas City, announces that he will start for Duluth tomorrow. He says: "Will start tomorrow. At least 1000 dead at Galveston, burning dead at sea in large boats, leaving in train loads through Texas City."

RESUME SOON.

New York, Sept. 12.—L. J. Schir and Gay L. Schir, cotton brokers here, whose failure was announced on Monday, will, according to announcement in the cotton exchange, speedily resume business.

Will Consider Reports.

The special committee of the municipal council, consisting of President Barnes of the council, C. A. Bunker of the water board, and Fred Voss, city treasurer, held a short meeting last evening. This sub-committee will consider all monthly reports of city officers so as to reduce some of the work of the council committee. It was for the purpose of going over these reports that the sub-committee met last evening.

Bert Sawyer Dead.

Bert Sawyer, of Minneapolis, who in his younger days lived in Duluth, died at the hospital for the insane at St. Peter on Sunday and was buried yesterday afternoon at the family residence at 254 Park avenue, Minneapolis. Mr. Sawyer was committed to the asylum some months ago. His mind failed him some time before and he was sent to a sanitarium, but it was deemed best to have him committed to a regular asylum.

and govern themselves? What patriot would prefer for his country an emporium of force, of violence, or barbarism, to an empire of peace, of progress and of civilization? This novel, un-American policy of imperialism should be opposed, because the grounds on which its advocates support it are purely, inconsistent and dishonest; because it involves the existence of a standing army to menace liberty and to oppress labor by diminishing wages; because it is cowardly to invade the rights of the weak while respecting those of the strong; because it would involve the American flag and the American constitution by siding the one where the other can not go; because it is a policy of inalienable, fly from a material point of view; and a policy of unspeakable infamy from a moral point of view.

CONSENT OF THE GOVERNED.

The defenders of the administration's course in the Philippines, which has caused a bloody war in which the lives of many brave American soldiers have been sacrificed on the altar of Imperialism, find it extremely difficult to make the McKinley policy agree with the principle of "the consent of the governed," and they are anxious forced to fall back on the silly assertion that the Indian is governed without his consent.
Exactly what this has to do with going thousands of miles from our shores and trying to conquer a people who desire to govern themselves does not appear clear. The relation is apparent only to the McKinley organ. Yet not long ago than March 18, 1888, President Mc-Kinley, then a member of congress, addressing the house in opposition to the Mills tariff bill, for which Knute Nelson spoke and voted, said:

"It is fortunate that our government is founded upon the consent of the governed; that every citizen has a voice in the making and unmaking of the house of representatives every two years, and even if it is desirable in the interim of a hearing, there is one day when he can speak and when he can make his influence felt." (Applause)

As he has done on every other question that ever came before the people, Mr.
McKinley has completely reversed his ideas in regard to the consent of the governed. He no longer regards consent as necessary. Emboldened with the spirit of Imperialism, he wants to rule 10, 000,000 people 5000 miles away, as colonies, as subjects, as slaves, and what is, indeed, perpetuate, a harem and pay our harem keeper $7 per month out of our ill-gotten revenues. The courts all hold we have no power and no right to hold "colonies" under our system. He condemns Secretary Seward, a great Republican, who in his senate on July 25, 1898, said this:

"It is a remarkable feature of the constitution of the United States that its framers never contemplated colonies or francises or territories at all. On the other hand, they contemplated states, perfectly equal states, as they are called here, sovereign states. There is reason-there is sound political wisdom—in this provision of the constitution excluding colonies, which are always subject to oppression, and excluding provinces, which always tend to corrupt and enfeeble and ultimately to break down the feeling of the nation."

It is also worthy of note that colonial possessions are condemned by the words of such eminent jurists and constitutional authorities as Judges Cooley, Brewer, Taney, Currier, McLean, Kent and a host of others, and by the teachings and the example of the American builders of this republic. If we add and hold as empire, as colonies, our new possessions, how soon will it be that we will turn our backs on Oklahoma, Alaska, New Mexico and Arizona, that are near us? How soon will our republic start to decay at home? One only way of preventing this danger is to put a stop to the policy that creates it—to perform "our plain duty" and elect William J. Bryan to the presidency.

BRYAN'S ANTI-CROKER BILL.

The Republican platform does not mention the word "trusts," and Senator Hanna, manager of the McKinley campaign, has publicly denounced trusts, as have many other conspicuous Republicans. President McKinley has indulged in a few platitudes on the subject, but he was very careful not to say anything that would wound the feelings of the heads of the great combines from which Hanna expects to raise a large campaign fund. The trust magnates are perfectly well aware of the fact that their interests would be protected in the event of McKinley's election and they will contribute liberally to Hanna's fund.

On the other hand, the Democratic national platform denounces the trusts and Mr. Bryan has pledged himself to do all within his power, if elected to the presidency, to crush the combines that are plundering the public. The Kansas City platform proposes as one remedy for trusts the following:

"Trusts laws should be amended by putting the products of trusts upon the free list to prevent monopoly under the policy of protection."

It is true that this plan would not destroy every trust, but it would provide an effective remedy for any trust of which the tariff was the mother. This point was well illustrated several months ago when the white paper trust began to heap heavily on the newspapers of the country. From the Atlantic to the Pacific Republican newspapers that had always pleaded for a high protective tariff, regardless of the welfare of the masses, threatened that unless the white paper trust became more responsible in its imposition, the tariff would be removed from the raw material. Not only this, but the St. Paul Pioneer Press and other Republican papers a year ago were demanding that all trust products be put on the free list. There was no political campaign on then.

In this connection it is interesting to recall the fact that on May 26, 1892, during his first term in congress, Mr.
Bryan introduced a bill having in view the very same idea. The bill was as follows:

"House Resolution, 900. A bill to amend an act entitled 'An Act to Protect Trade and Commerce Against Unlawful Restraints and Monopolies.'"

"Be it enacted by the senate and house of representatives of the United States of America in congress assembled, that an act entitled 'An Act to Protect Commerce and Trade Against Unlawful Restraints and Monopolies,' approved July 2, 1890, be, and the same is hereby, amended by adding thereto the following as an additional section, namely:

"Sec. 3. That whenever any circuit court of the United States shall find,
in a case pending before it under this act, that any contract, combination in the form of a trust, or otherwise, or complicity in restraint of trade or commerce among the several states, or with foreign nations, exists in violation of any article or articles upon which duties are levied by the then existing tariff laws of the United States, it shall be the duty of the court to report the facts so found to the president of the United States, submitting forth specifically each and every such article."

"It shall be the duty of the president of the United States, upon the receipt of such report, to issue his proclamation placing each and every such article, when imported into the United States,
upon the free list, and shall fix the time,
not exceeding thirty days, from the receipt of the findings of the court, at which such article or articles shall be admitted free of duty. And on and after the date fixed in such proclamation such article or articles shall, when imported into the United States, be admit-

"Provided, that whenever such article or articles are subjected to a tax under the internal revenue laws of the United States, the duty on such article or articles shall be equal to such internal revenue tax. And from and after the date fixed by the proclamation such article or articles shall be admitted, when ject to a duty equal to the internal revenue tax on said article or articles."

If It Keeps Up and City Increases Rate May Be Nearly Thirty Mills.

Though the process is still in a very undeveloped state, it is likely that the city will be able to raise more than they were last year. The county has made its levy without making any appreciable effort to raise more than it needed, and it is considered that the city will have to make an increased levy. Nothing has been heard from the state board of equalization, but it is expected, but it is said that no reduction will be made in its levy, though there are many public officials who are in favor of such a move. It is proper for the school board to make a reduction, as the treasury of the district contains more money than it needs. The board of equalization last year's levy of 5.5 mills. If the board's levy is increased and the city levies 4.5 mills, that would be a reduction of 10 per cent. The city will be between 29 and 30 mills as compared with 24.9 mills last year. The rate will be 29 and 187, whereas the rate was 24.4 mills.

JUDGMENTS ARE FORCLOSED.

Company With Five Millions Capital Is Sold Out.

New York, Sept. 14.—According to reports in circulation today, the National Nickel company, which was incorporated in the state of Illinois in August, 1898, with a capital of $5,000,000, divided into 500,000 shares of the par value of $10 each, has passed into the hands of the Nevada Nickel syndicate because of its failure to satisfy certain mortgages aggregating $50,000 in their maturity.

The president of the company is George W. Dunn, who succeeded John Leighton at a meeting of the directors in Chicago last May. It is believed Mr. Leighton still holds a large amount of the stock.

According to irregulars sent out by President Dunn the National Nickel company consists of four mines and a cannery, 100 acres in all, situated in Churchill county, Nev.

Last December the mine was sold under foreclosure to satisfy judgments held against it by the Nevada Nickel syndicate. The company was given six months to redeem the mine, but failed, and an appeal for an extension was made.

The Nevada Nickel syndicate, which is understood to be in favor of the Nevada Nickel syndicate, and that it has assumed the management of the mine, has notified the stock of the National Nickel company is worth $100,000.

It was said today that most of the stock is held in this city and Chicago.

Japan's Attitude toward China

Written For Collier's Weekly By Durham White Stevens, Counsellor of the Japanese Legation.

The racial differences that exist between Japan and China, which their history during the past three decades has done so much to accentuate, have probably led some observers to believe that the two peoples are naturally antipathetic. The war of 1894 has been cited as proof of this, and in the present crisis in the far East it appears to be taken for granted by many who should be better informed that the Japanese people will regard China's misfortune with sympathy and interest.

So far as Japan is concerned, there is no valid reason for thinking that either the government or the great mass of the people cherish for China the dislike which such a belief implies. Probably the Japanese are not incorrect in the case of some, at least, of the less ignorant classes in China. Although as present events unhappily prove, intolerance and bigotry exist in Japan as in every other nation, and as such are now in the ascendancy there, signs have not been wanting during recent years of the survival of the elements of ideas and of friendly feelings on the part of the Chinese toward their island neighbor. It is not the fault of the Japanese government or of the public sentiment which has been predominant during the Meiji era that the Japanese people have attained a sturdier growth. Notwithstanding the clash of interests to which near neighborhood has given rise, the Japanese people have been able to establish and foster friendly relations with China. The difficulty has been to create a corresponding desire and equal cordiality on the part of the Chinese. Japan's advances have often been met with only partly concealed aversion and suspicion, and it has been necessary to strain on numerous occasions that the rulers of China disliked Japan not so much in the case of ancient grievances as in the case of the Japanese people. In China the desire to reject in utter hostility the Japanese people is a natural result of the despised yet dreaded methods of Western nations. We cannot but be surprised that the Chinese people should have been able to adopt the methods of Western nations. We cannot but be surprised that the Chinese people should have been able to adopt the methods of Western nations.

Yet, throughout all the disagreeable experiences to which this gave rise, the Japanese government acted with tolerance and forbearance. Twice the military forces of the Japanese government were forced to fly for their lives from Seoul. On the first occasion the military and naval forces of the Japanese government were forced to fly for their lives from Seoul. On the first occasion the military and naval forces of the Japanese government were forced to fly for their lives from Seoul. THE PARTING OF THE WAYS.
To a people imbued with these ideas, the Japanese government, as the agent of the present era could not fail to be regarded with disapproval, not untiringly to subjugate China, but to bring about a new era of peace and harmony between the two nations. THE PRESENT CRISIS.
The Far East is already overshadowed by a situation too real and palpable to the analysis and the imagination of the people of this country.

China is a matter of vital concern to the people of this country, and it is a matter which appeals to our common humanity, in the presence of which the competitive spirit of nations is a thing of the past.

that the Japanese people are unanimously desirous that, whatever may be the outcome of the situation, their government will endeavor, in concert with those of other nations, to secure a settlement such as may conduce to the ultimate progress and prosperity of China.

JAPAN AND THE GREAT POWERS.
That may be taken as a fair opinion of the Japanese people's opinion in the present crisis. Neither they nor their government entertain any desire for territorial aggrandizement, or has any other object in view than the protection of life and property in China and the restoration by all proper means, in cooperation with other nations, of lawful authority and orderly government. The Japanese government has not only itself forward in this matter, of attempted to play broker in the name of humanity. It has shown itself ready to stand loyally shoulder to shoulder with other nations in averting the horrible calamity which threatens the East, and to do in the common cause all that the most liberal interpretation of its resources of the Chinese empire and duty has been thus far performed should, it seems to me, be taken as proof of the faith of the Japanese people in the future of the East.

With the navy the progress made has been equally remarkable. At the time of the war with China the Fusu, and other ironclads, was the only armored vessel in the Japanese navy. Now there are the Shikishima and Asahi, battleships of about 15,000 tons and between 18 and 19 knots speed, completed; the Misaka and Hasegawa, of the same class, nearly built; the Fuso and Yamashiro, about 12,500 and 12,200 tons, respectively, in commission; and the Ching-yen, 7,000 tons, nearly completed. GREAT BIG SENSATION

Hermantown People Agitated Over a Wild Giant Running at Large.

IS FIERCE AND HAIRY

Carries a Club and Does All Manner of Queer Things.

When it comes to real quivering, palpitating and thrilling sensations Hermantown can be depended on for something exciting.

Out at West Duluth, where they need a distraction, a certain, some brazen stranger who left before the war, works shut down jumps out of a back and shakes hands with his astonished parent.

"Hi-ha," he cries, "you do not know me. Look at my patent leather shoes. These are not the shoes I had when I was a barefoot boy without shoes. I am your son."

Then the inhabitants gather round, the returned one says off the mortgage on the old homestead and throws gold dollars at the people.

Out at Lakeville when the inhabitants desire some excitement they shoot at some neighbor who happens to have missed the last car and gets in the wrong house by mistake. Down on Minnesota point when something more buoyant than the ordinary is desired, a young man from out there at the city hall this morning says that a giant will man has been seen at that vicinity.

He is seven feet tall, and has a long head. When he runs, which he does with the "sawed" look, his chin comes as a Hermantown post put it, "a human form by flying." His eyes are fierce and bloodshot, his nose sharp. The young man who sought to starve the city hall this morning, avers that he knows of the giant's whereabouts as his childhood spent through the forest. One truthful native says he knows now how his big feet came from during a heavy rain the other night.

One man was returning from the city, probably the Hermantown post put it, when the giant leaped out of the bushes beside his wagon and trotted along beside it and walked away the line's any chance of Henry Truesdell being elected to congress. This person's veracity is being questioned by his neighbors.

He says that on his return he carried a bag of sawed chips and his footprints made no noise. When the horses were whipped into a run he remained alongside without increasing his apparent efforts. The monster disappeared in the woods when approaching the lights of a settlement. All properly equipped monsters show the lights of settlements.

Other evidences to prove that the giant exists were mentioned by the young man this morning. The Hermantown post put it, "a human form by flying." His eyes are fierce and bloodshot, his nose sharp. OWNERSHIP OF A COW.

District Court Engaged in Settling a Dispute Over That.

The ownership of a cow, description unknown, valued at $75, was the subject of controversy in court room No. 4 in district court this morning and Judge Eakin and jury and two attorneys were engaged in trying to find out the rightful owner. Thomas Martin is the plaintiff, and he brings a suit in replevin to recover the cow, which he claims John Malmstrom, the defendant, took away from him. Malmstrom admits that he took the cow, and claims that it belonged to him and that Martin took it away from him.

In the case of Otto Erickson against Katie Heron, to recover a commission for assistance rendered in selling a mining claim, the jury returned a verdict for $200 for the plaintiff yesterday. This morning Judge Eakin was hearing the case of E. J. Eakin against Mitchell & McClure, to recover $200 for the loss of a couple of furs in the saw-mill belonging to the defendants. It was a case of some machinery. When he was struck by a flying piece of wood and knocked against a saw, which clipped off the fingers.

Why is Electric Light Best? Because it is Healthy, Clean, Pure and Brilliant.

HEALTHY! It has no odor. Professor Thompson states one cubic foot of gas contains as much oxygen as four adults.

CLEAN! It causes no discolorations of furnishings and decorations in homes.

SAFE! As electric bell work, no danger of suffocation.

CHEAP! By using a little care in turning off lights when not in use it is cheaper than any other illuminant.

ADJOURNED.

Legislative Conventions Put Off Their Business Until This Afternoon.

The Democratic and Populist legislative conventions were to have met at 10 o'clock this morning, but in all three of the districts they were adjourned until 5 o'clock this afternoon to permit delegates from the ranges and Lake and Cook counties to come in on the noon train.

In the Fifty-first district the delegates were rather late at this morning, from the fact that Frank Crasswell absolutely declined to permit his name to be used. His nomination was a foregone conclusion but for this, and that he would have made a very strong run every one admits. George Laybourn, the Republican candidate, will feel much relieved at Mr. Crasswell's refusal to become a candidate. C. E. Shannon was being suggested this morning as a possible nominee.

For the other place in this district, Joseph Therrien, of Two Harbors, is prominently mentioned. He is an employee of the register of deeds office in Lake county.

In the Fifty-second district the delegates seemed to be united on S. F. Salvay. Mr. Salvay has said that he has no desire to wear legislative honors, but has not refused to allow the use of his name. For the other place Samuel Kiley seemed to be in much favor, but there were other possibilities.

In the Forty-ninth district W. E. McEwen will be one of the candidates, and several names are heard for the other place. Frank Wade is strongly mentioned, and may be the choice of the delegates.

WILL BE ENFORCED.

Manager Warren Determined to Enforce Anti-Spitting Ordinance.

Manager Herbert Warren of the street railway company is using strenuous efforts to enforce the ordinance in regard to spitting on the floor of the cars, and the conductors have strict orders to enforce the provisions of the same. The effort has already been attended with a great deal of success, and the practice of expectorating tobacco juice on the street car floors has been checked.

An incident happened on an East End car this noon that illustrates the way that some people take the restriction placed on them. Manager Warren was riding on the car, which was crowded, and saw a gentleman, that certainly ought to know better, spit tobacco juice down in the space between the window and the back of the seat. Mr. Warren called the conductor's attention to the matter, and the man, when informed that such practice must be stopped, was very indignant and declared that he would like to speak with Mr. Warren about it right away. Mr. Warren was perfectly willing to listen and get off the car with the man. The latter did nothing, however, but announced emphatically that he would suit where he pleased, whether on a car or on the street.

Mr. Warren says he will enforce the ordinance to the letter and will make a test case of it right away if the man carries on his threat.

STEARNS LOOKS FINE.

Dr. Cullum Finds All Elements United Down There.

Dr. M. B. Cullum, chairman of the Democratic congressional committee, has returned from a visit to St. Cloud, where he saw many of the politicians and met with the county committee. He says that the situation in Stearns county is excellent. All the elements seem to be united, and so far as present indications show, the fight will be a united and determined one and the county will roll up the best majority it ever did. Judge Bruner, who was nominated for judge of probate, does not feel physically able to make the race and has announced his withdrawal from the ticket. The matter will be held open for a time, however, to learn what his physician will say as to his condition in a week or so. Mr. Bruner will support the Democratic ticket, however, and will be a source of much strength to it.

ABOUT FISHES. The tunny is a Mediterranean fish, which grows to ten feet long, weighs half a ton, and makes excellent eating. The wrasses, thick-lipped fish, found near rocky shores, differ from most other fish in that the larger they are the better they are adapted for food. They grow to fifty pounds.

The sea-hedgehog, or globe fish, can inflate its body when in danger. It looks like a balloon covered with spikes, and is quite safe from any enemy.

BEET SUGAR INDUSTRY

New Factories Will Be Ready For the Present Year's Campaign.

TESTS IN MINNESOTA

Show That Beets of Good Quality and Purity Can Be Raised.

From The Herald Washington Bureau.

Washington, Sept. 14.—Special to The Herald.—A report from the department of agriculture on the progress of the beet-sugar industry in the United States calls attention to the changed conditions under which the work has been prosecuted. Most of the states that have entered into the experiment in growing sugar beets have been pursuing this line of investigation for several years. In most cases the investigations have been exhaustive. In some it has been demonstrated that the states have natural conditions for growing sugar beets and manufacturing sugar from them, in others it has been shown that conditions are not favorable for growing sugar beets for the purpose. Many of the states, upon the showing, have not thought it advisable to continue this line of investigation any further but have declined to call attention to the facts already shown. In states where there were favorable for the establishment of the beet-sugar industry, the energies of the states have been turned in the direction of encouraging the establishment of the beet-sugar industry, which is as important an industry as any other in the country.

A number of new factories will be established, ready for the campaign of the present year. Several others will be completed this year with a view to completing them in time for the next season's campaign. In quite a number of communities, the interest in the beet-sugar industry has been revived. The beet-sugar industry is now being prosecuted in a number of new communities. The beet-sugar industry is now being prosecuted in a number of new communities.

ROBERTS' FINAL COUP

He Is Now Making a Concentric Movement to Take Komatiport.

RESIGNS HIS OFFICE

Kruger Lays Down Transvaal Presidency But Remains in the Executive.

New York, Sept. 14.—A dispatch to the Tribune from London says:

News from the seat of war in South Africa is interesting, and it is clear that Lord Roberts is making a concentric movement upon Komatiport, and has left Pretoria in order to direct it personally.

When Komatiport is captured Lord Roberts will be credited with having taken possession of the last Dutch railway line and closed the war in central territory. The work of pacification will not have been thoroughly worked out, but the main object will have been secured, as was done when Bloemfontein and Pretoria were occupied.

The Mail's correspondent in Lourenço Marques reports that Mr. Kruger has resigned the presidency of the Transvaal but remains a member of the executive.

According to a Lisbon message to the Express, Mr. Kruger proposes to stay at the seat of his government at Mozambique.

Lourenço Marques, Sept. 14.—President Kruger has been informed that the British Her Majesty's forces are in the neighborhood of the seat of his government, and he has decided to move to Mozambique.
